SUBMIT REPORT ON CONVENTION

Delegates From Chamber of Commerce Tell of Work at St. Louis

PROBLEMS PRESENTED

Local Chamber Was Represented by R. Stuart Royer and Wallace Lindsey—1,200 Delegates Attended.

Gentlemen:

Mr. Wallace Lindsey and myself, appointed as delegates by the president to represent the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce at the Convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in St. Louis, April 29-30 and May 1, 1919, beg to report as follows:

At this convention there were in attendance about 1.200 representative business men, representing every state in the Union. Virginia was represented by two delegates from Alexandria, two from Newport News, four from Richmond and three from Roanoke. The City of Washington was represented by twenty-nine delegates.

The convention was addressed by some of the most representative business men of the country and big national problems were the themes of most of the addresses.

Among the speakers were Honorable Carter Glass, Secretary of the Treasury, Honorable William C. Redfield, Secretary of Commerce, Edward N. Hurley, Chairman U. S. Shipping Board, Homer L. Ferguson, President Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, Walker D. Hines, Director General of Railroads, Senator Albert B. Cummins, Samuel Rea, President of the Pennsylvania Railroad and numerous other prominent men.

Honorable William C. Redfield, Secretary of Commerce, spoke on "Commerce." He suggested co-operation as the best middle ground between close combination and unrestrained competition in the conduction of private business in the United States. Such co-operation, he stated, would recognize the right of labor to organize. Business, he pointed out, has been so thoroughly reformed, that the application of drastic anti-trust laws is no longer necessary, and it is recognized that the old trust system has had its day and that the bitter contests of competitions are dangerous to the community.

He spoke of commerce and industry recognizing threefold obligations, ie to the public (including the Government), to labor, and to the owners of business. The record of industrial effort in the war reveals that many an industry worked for the country without profit and some were actually wrecked by reason of their service.

Many of the large and more progressive industries are already in the process of working out admitted obligations of business toward labor He said the leaders of modern business thought have gone beyond legal standards and are dealing with labor on a human basis, admitting it to be a living force that can be lead to great productiveness but which is increasingly dangerous to drive and whose efficiency depends on many factors, of which but one, and no one always controlling, is the rate of wages paid through these very respects business has come, or is coming, to a new and large obligation to itself; to a conception of this dignity as a productive point in the land, and through that, to a more wholesome, broader and finer ethical atmosphere.

It is a part of this spirit of co-operation that industry should give to labor that which it expects labor to give to it. A corporation is nothing but a union of capital and should not object to dealing with a union of labor. What is right for one is right for the other. collective bargaining is here to stay. It has long feasted and been welcomed on the side of the corporation and co-operation will admit its right to be on the side of the employees.

Honorable Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the U. S. Shipping Board, spoke upon the "Merchant Marine." He dealt mainly with the two most common fears concerning the future of the American Merchant Marines, namely: whether American shipbuilders can compete in building costs with foreign ship yards and whether American ships can be operated as cheaply as foreign ships. He stated his conviction that there is no reason for anxiety on either point, he then gave reasons substantiating his belief.

The cost of operating an American ship when compared with a similar ship under a foreign flag, does not make it impossible for us to compete successfully with the ships of other nations.

The matter of government operation of railroads was discussed by Federal Director, Walker D. Hines, Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, and President Samuel Rea, of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Differing but slightly in the methods they proposed for government regulation. The burden of the address of each speaker was that the best interests of the country demanded the prompt return of the properties, the inference being that government operation had proved a failure.

The concensus of opinion as evidenced in the remarks of the speakers was that the chief objection to private ownership was the disparity between the large roads over the smaller, but competing lines, which must be met with a merger that would incorporate all the railroads systems of the country into a score of large systems that will assure equal advantages and preclude the pre-war conditions, when many of the properties were running big dividends, while other less favored but competing lines were on the verge of bankruptcy.

Of particular interests to Alexandria was a discussion of the housing problem, in which Secretaries from all over the United States told how they had met the problem and were solving it. Men from all over the country told of having organized companies originating in their Chambers of Commerce and developed as stock companies, who built anywhere from ten to two-hundred and fifty houses last year and were repeating their building program this year.

While none of these projects were planned for great financial gains, they had proved without exception to be good investments and all promised a fair return on the investment. None of the cities, as far as we were able to judge, had a more urgent need to meet when they went into this proposition than Alexandria has to meet at the present time, nor did they have as promising a future as Alexandria has.

We feel sure that if you gentlemen had heard the experiences of these men as expressed at this meeting nothing would deter you from getting actually behind such a movement in Alexandria and to make permanent Alexandria's future by making it a community of home builders and home owners. Proper housing and home buying would solve many of Alexandria's problems and would do much toward making our citizenship satisfied and permanent and we hope you gentlemen will determine to get behind this movement, which has been lagging up to the present time, and solve the problem in a logical and intelligent manner.

We feel that there is no thought that we can bring to you from St. Louis that is of any more importance at the present time than this matter of home building which means the proper and logical growth of our City along the best and most permanent lines.

WILL SUPPORT TREATY

Washington, May 16.—Senator Martin, of Virginia, the Democratic leader, announced on his return to Washington yesterday he would support the peace treaty and the league of nations covenant in the Senate. He said he did not expect the treaty to be submitted by President Wilson until late in June.

Senator Martin told Republican Leader Lodge that he could see no reason why the Republicans, with a majority of two, should not be able to organize the Senate when it meets in extra session next Monday. Senator Lodge called to see Senator Martin to discuss organization and procedure when the Senate convenes.

Senator Martin said the conference of Democratic Senators to be held Saturday would select candidates for Senate offices to oppose those named yesterday by the Republican conference and would choose party officers. No contests are expected, and Senator Martin is slated for re-election as leader.

Democratic committee members, Senator Martin said, would be chosen by a committee on committees after the Republicans agree upon their committee assignments.

PLAN WELCOME FOR WAR HEROES

Alexandria Boys to be Given Big Ovation In Honor of Their Return

ARE ENROUTE HOME

Every Organization in City Will be Asked to Take Part in Celebration to be Given.

The President of the Chamber of Commerce was directed by the Board of Directors at the meeting last night to invite representatives from all of the patriotic and civic organizations of this city to meet and make arrangements for a suitable reception to be tendered the Alexandria men returning home from the battlefields of France.

The Alexandria Light Infantry, a part of the Twenty-Ninth Division, is now on the high seas, and the Eightieth Division, having in it the drafted men, is following closely behind. Many Alexandrians who have done service in the Army and Navy are now at home and the reception to be planned will be for all.

The history of the war work done by the organizations of this city in the interest of soldiers from distant states encamped at Humphreys and other near-by points has won the approval and interest of everyone, and now that our own boys are returning it is expected that the meeting to be held will be attended by every representative appointed and that the deep interest in our victorious contingent of the great army will result not merely in a passing celebration, but will presult in some permanent memorial suited to commemorate the acts of valor, where frequently it became necessary to pay the supreme cost.

Carroll Pierce, president of the Chamber of Commerce, announces today that the call for the proposed meeting would be issued at once and that it will go to every organization in the city of Alexandria.

WIRZ TOMB DESECRATED

Party From Aviation Field Paints Monument in German Colors

Macon, Ga., May 16.—Investigation is being made at Southern Field near Americus, Ga., of charges that a party of aviation cadets went to Andersonville, Ga., where 15,000 Federal soldiers of the civil war are buried, and painted the monument of Major Henry E. Wirz, Confederate officer, in the German colors, red, black and yellow.

Sumter county officials said today they had information that one officer, one civilian employe and one man not connected with the aviation camp were the leaders of the expedition and that arrests probably would be made within a few days.

Major Wirz, a native of Switzerland was in charge of the Andersonville prison during the Civil War and after peace was declared he was executed in Washington for cruelty to prisoners of the Union Army. The monument to his memory was erected several years ago by the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

.. WOULD WATCH HARDEN ..

It is the part of wisdom to watch with care the actions of Maximilian Harden on the reception of the peace terms and to view with suspicion the motives back of his assertion that Germany has had no reason to expect better conditions when their own performances at Brest-Litovsk and their expectations in Belgium and France are considered in parallel lines. The above is a suggestion of the New York Herald.

In December, 1914, Harden displayed a greediness of conquest that was not excelled even by bullheaded preachers. professors, artists and authors, who gave themselves up to the unalterable scorn of decent and honorable people everywhere by their manifesto of hate and revenge. In the Zukunft that month Harden wrote as follows:

"Now we know why the war has materialized. It is to hoist the flag of that turbulent Power that opens and closes the narrow Straits, giving entrance and egrees to the ocean beyond! Let us take permanent possession of the Belgian lowlands and likewise occupy the narrow strip of coastline just to the rear of Calais.

From Calais, as far as Antwerp, Flanders, Limburg and Brabant, all must be Prussian, thus constituting the meridional triangle of Alsace, Lorraine and Luxemburg. We want land for the expansion of our interests and a free way to the ocean. Never was there so just a war! Conquer new provinces we must for the majesty of the noble Germanic spirit."

ANOTHER LAUNCHING

Alexandria is to have another gala day. Tomorrow week the second steel freight ship constructed by the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation will glide into the Potomac river. She will be known as the Betsy Bell, the second of a fleet of similar vessels which are being built in Alexandria. Two other similar steel ships are far advanced in construction at the same plant, and within a few weeks they, too, will be in the river. The keel and much of the bottom work on the fifth ship has been placed in position.

The first of these ships—the Gunston Hall—was launched on February 27, when was witnessed the largest gathering of persons in the southeastern section of the city ever known. Hundreds of automobiles, mostly from Washington, brought multitudes to this city to witness the launching, all of whom rejoiced with Alexandria over the huge plant which has been located here. Another large gathering is expected on the 24th instant.

WHAT WOULD FOLLOW

Suppose the Germans don't sign—what then? What means will bring a change of mood? These questions are asked by the New York Tribune.

"The armistice automatically will terminate and Germany will be subject to occupation. This will involve few practical difficulties, and the wisdom of precautionary provisions of the armistice terms will quickly appear.

"The German Army has been demobilized—except for a small force. The German submarines are in Ally possession, and the German airfleet and the effective artillery establishment. The German commissary is disorganized and can neither equip nor supply troops. Germany has enough rolling stock on her railraods to supply civilian needs, but not enough to move armies. So as to motorcars and tractors.

"The advance into Germany would not be war, but a parade. The German leaders know this as well as others, and do not pretend to hold out a hope even of resistance. As for joining hands with the Bolsheviki, as is faintly threatened—this is impossible. Poland interposes a bar to physical connection, and long before it was passed the Allies would be in Berlin."

ELKS INITIATE 271 AT BIG CEREMONY

The biggest event in the history of Washington Elkdom took place last night, when more than 1,000 Elks attended the ceremonies in connection with the initiation of 271 candidates in the big ball room of the Willard.

In connection with the initiation ceremonies the unofficial drive of the Salvation Army, which officially begins next Monday, was started by the Elks of Lodge No. 15. While the members were listening to speeches the strains of a hand organ were heard, and into their midst came a giant Elk turning the crank of the organ with one hand and leading a monkey with the other. Under the direction of Milton Kronheim a handsome amount was realized for the Salvation Army.

SHOOTS WIFE AND DAUGHTER

Danville, Va., May 16.—The police are still without trace of Edward Smith, who Wednesday night shot and wounded his wife, Annie Smith and his eldest daughter, Mrs. Ethel Young, at their home on Union street. Both women owe their lives to the fact that the ammunition in the cylinder of the revolver was old and had deteriorated.

Smith, a carpenter, had been separated from his wife for two years and she did not know that he was in Danville until he called late at night at the house. Jealousy is believed to have caused the attempted homicide.

20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips

20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips are made of a combination of three parts of pure soap and one part pure Borax. Borax softens the water—soft water cleanses more thoroughly and saves labor. It's the Borax with the soap that does the work.

20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips are the only form of soap that will retain such a large percentage (25%) of Borax.

No soap cutting to do when you use 20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips. They dissolve quickly. An 8-oz. package will do the work of 25c worth of ordinary laundry soap.

20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips will not mar the daintiest fabrics and will not shrink woolens, flannels, sweaters, etc.

To make genuine soap paste, good for all washing purposes, add one quart of boiling water to three heaping tablespoonfuls of 20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips.

RUSSELLITES SECURE REVERSAL OF VERDICT

New York, May 16.—Eight leaders of the Russellite cult escaped long prison terms for alleged disloyalty during the war when the United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday reversed the decision of the Unitd States District Court in Brooklyn, in which the men were found guilty of conspiracy to violate the espionage law.

Judge Henry D. Ward in announcing the reversal, stated that the defendants did not have the temperate and impartial trial to which they were entitled.

The case attracted nationwide interest both because of the prominence of Pastor Russell's sect as well as because the cases resembled many other spionage law violations.

Seven of the men had been sentenced to serve twenty years and the other one to serve ten years.

FLIGHT OFF AGAIN

Simultaneous Departure of Three Planes Expected Today

Trespassey, May 16.—The big flight yesterday evening was off again—for the moment, at least. After taxing for a considerable time NC-1 and NC-3 returned to their moorings without having left the water.

The eleventh hour arrival of the NC-4 at 7:10 o'clock yesterday evening Trespassey time, about 8:10 New York time), may have influenced her sister seaplanes, the NC-1 and NC-3 to return to their moorings after they were almost off. They had left their moorings and were "taxing" along the water, to all intents and purposes already to take the air, when the NC-4 loomed in the offing, gliding majestically to her landing place.

It was the wish of all to have the three planes start on the big flight simultaneously, so Commander J. H. Towers, in charge of the arrangements, had waited here with the NC-1 and the NC-3 as long as he did.

Simultaneous departure by the three planes, probably today, is now looked for.

Capt. William Gray and Allen McDougall, a deck hand, were picked up at Rye Beach, after they had drifted about in a small boat for several hours. They are the only survivors.

COAL, LUMBER AND BUILDING MATERIALS
W. A. SMOOT & CO. INC.
Your Next Winter's Coal
We do not know what the price of coal will be next Fall and Winter, as the retail price is governed by the price at the mines and the freight.
Our understanding of the present program is that Anthracite coal will advance ten cents a ton a month from May 1st to September 1st, and although we think this program will probably be carried out yet we are not sure of this.
We do know that THE MINES CANNOT PRODUCE, THE RAILROADS CANNOT HAUL AND THE DEALERS CANNOT HANDLE nearly enough coal during the Fall and Winter months to take care of an ordinary winter's demand.
This means that coal will have to be mined, transported and delivered during the Spring and Summer to avoid a serious shortage next Fall and Winter.
We advise our customers to take these facts into consideration and order a reasonable supply of coal now.

It is with pleasure I inform you that I have 33x4 Diamond Tires on the rear wheels of an Overland car, which up to the present time, have run 5,750 miles and neither one has been off the wheels since put on new. They look good for many more miles and can be seen on the car at the Mt. Vernon Auto Co., garage by anyone interested.

The above is a practical demonstration of what Diamond Tires are doing and speaks louder than words for their merits.

Very truly yours,

THEATRES

INGOMAR—Billy Burke

Conceded by press and public to be one of the most talented motion picture stars in the country, Billie Burke will be seen in her new Paramount photoplay, "The Make-Believe Wife," at the Ingomar tonight. Miss Burke is among the foremost of screen comediennes and her portrayal in this excellent production is most delightful.

RICHMOND—Vivian Martin

Vivian Martin's latest Paramount photoplay, "The Home Town Girl," which is being presented at the Richmond Theatre today, is a delightful photoplay which is well worth seeing. Miss Martin is a charming Yankee girl in this story who sets an admirable example to young women who are in love—that of constancy to ideals and faith in the men of their choice.

A two reel Fox-Sunshine comedy, also will be shown.

GRAND THEATRE

It is difficult to describe the charm of "Child of M'sieu," Baby Marie Osborne's latest starring vehicle, which is being presented at the Grand Theatre tonight. For its allurement is undoubtedly due to its very simplicity. It is a cute, pleasing little picture, cleancut, as one member of the audience who viewed it aptly remarked.

A bit of pathos, a bit of childish glee—a bit of sentiment and human interest characters naturally harmonized with the colorful background of life in an Italian tavern, are all elements which feature largely in the pleasurable presentation of the "Child of M'sieu."

Also a two reel Keystone comedy.

Callus? Peel It Off Quickly!

Nothing On Earth Like "Gets-It" For Corns and Calluses.

A spot of thickened skin on the bottom of your foot which so often makes walking an agony, is as easily removed by wonderful "Gets-It" as any hard or soft corn anywhere on your toes. Look at this picture.—A few drops of "Gets-It" did the work. The callus comes loose from the true flesh. No irritation whatever. You peel the callus right off just like a banana peel—peacefully, painlessly. "Gets-It" does the same thing to any corn, without the use of sticky plasters, irritating salves, greasy ointments or bundling tape. There's no fussing—no knife, no scissors to use. "Gets-It" is used by millions, because it's common sense, and it never fails. Try it, prove it. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Callus Comes Off Like Banana Peel!

NO BEER OF ANY SORT

Washington, D. C., May 16.—Attorney General Palmer has informed the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that the manufacture of any sort of beer is in violation of the law and should be so treated. This information was conveyed in an answer to Commissioner Roper's request for a decision on questions involved in the controversy over the making of 2 3-4 per cent. beer.

The opinion of the Attorney General will be a great blow to near-beer makers, who have been building up a business to take place of the brewers. It is a strict, literal interpretation of the beer provision of the war-time prohibition act, which says that "after May 1. 1919, until the conclusion of the war" and so forth. "no grain, cereals, fruit or other food product shall be used in the manufacture or production of beer, wine, or other intoxicating malt or vinous liquor, for beverage purposes."

TO IGNORE THREATS

Paris, May 16.—Commenting upon the meeting of the German National Assembly in Berlin, the French newspapers point out that underlying an apparent unanimity against the peace terms were characteristic indications of a division between the Government and the members of the Assembly. In view of this the newspapers express belief that a German Government crisis may be imminent.

As to the speech of Philipp Scheidemann, the consensus of opinion among the commentators is that his attitude resembles that of a convicted individual whose punishment becomes imminent. The newspapers declare that neither his interested appeals to pity nor his disguised threats will impress the Entente, which, united in peace as in war, will request the strict fulfillment of the peace treaty.
